

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A mobile surveillance apparatus including a trailer and mast pivotally connected to the trailer and movable between a vertical position and horizontal position. A plurality of surveillance cameras are mounted on the mast along with a light, the latter being positioned within a space behind the cameras.